

Electrolyte

Description

The electrolyte is mainly consisted of LiPF₆ (Lithium Hexafluorophosphate), and added functional ingredients according to different demands, for instance, cycle life increasing, thermal stability improving, or problem solving, such as water removing, film forming, or gas evolution decreasing, and so on.